WARM WELCOLME, DEAR GRASS-SKIERERS

In July 2016 the officials of the Grasskiteam Erzgebirge decided, to apply as a host for the FIS Children Camp 2018.

Since then, the preparations for the, hopefully, exciting and successful event for the young athletes from all the different nations were in full swing.

The city and the ski club of Ehrenfriedersdorf and the Grasski Team Erzgebirge incurred a high expenditure to grant the best conditions during the camp. Many volunteers will support our guests, in order to make the camp, especially for the youngest, an amazing memory.

The slope and the lift were optimized in order to provide the best conditions during the camp and a team of young trainers worked out a variating training plan. Nevertheless the organisation committee is keen to bring the mining traditions of our region in the Ore Mountains closer to our visitors.

Of course the fun and joy in the international community of grassskiers will not come too short. In the end we will, surely well prepared, experience exciting and fascinating races. In each class of age the winners will be announced in three different disciplines. We wish our guests a successful and exciting camp, and the best luck for the races.

FOREWORD BY MAYOR OF E'DORF

Good luck and welcome in the mining town of Ehrenfriedersdorf!

I am pleased to welcome especially the young athletes, trainers and advisors from eight different nations as well as all visitors of the FIS children camp 2018 here, in the heart of the Ore Mountains, in Ehrenfriedersdorf.

After the successful stage of several FIS grassski junior competitions in the last years I am very proud, that Ehrenfriedersdorf is this year's stage of this unique sports event.

As the mayor of Ehrenfriedersdorf, it is an honour for me to take the auspices for the camp, as it is very important for me to support the local sports clubs in their work with the youth and young talents as well as the strengthening of the voluntary work in the sport clubs.

Especially the winter sports have a long and successful tradition in Ehrenfriedersdorf and in the cities nearby therefore it has also a very high significance in our city.

The FIS children camp is therefore also a good opportunity, to put this extraordinary sport in the focus of the public and to grant the young grassskiers their well-deserved attention and recognition.

The young athletes are awaiting eventful days of training and racing here in Ehrenfriedersdorf. The win of a medal or a good placement in the ranking is the best meed for a hard and sudatory training. Nevertheless the fun and joy of the sport and the possibility to meet other young people with the same interest from all over the world should always stay in first position.

The interesting and appealing environment of Ehrenfriedersdorf, in between of the Ore Mountains, the various spare time activities and the sincere guest-friendship are the optimal basement for a successful host of the FIS children camp, that everybody will keep in good memory.

Silke Franzl
Mayor of Ehrenfriedersdorf
